Indigo is situated at Borne, three miles east of Portsmouth. Local places of interest include Fort Shirley in the Cabrits National Park, the Indian River, the Syndicate Trail and waterfall as well as various sandy beaches. The Waitikubuli National Trail has recently opened and Indigo is between segment the 11 (from Syndicate to Borne) and segment 12 (from Borne to Penville).

Indigo is not 'standard' hotel accommodation but for many people, staying at Indigo is a rustic, natural and beautiful experience.

EXTRA PERSON ON THE SOFA BED: + US$15

SPECIAL PACKAGE: STAY 3 NIGHTS, GET ONE NIGHT FREE.

The "Tree Cottage" is a three-walled wooden structure just up the hill from the gallery. One side is entirely open with a view across the valley. It accommodates a maximum of three people – with one double bed and a sofa that can made into a single bed. There is a small kitchen with stove, small fridge, citrus juicer and electric jug. The cottage is equipped with a double hammock and a mosquito net (although mosquitoes are rare). The shower (not hot) and dry toilet are outside and a short walk from the cottage. The cottage has Wi-Fi connection.

THE CRUSOE COTTAGE

US$60 single and double occupancy

MINIMUM STAY 1 NIGHT

The "Crusoe cottage" is used an overspill of the Tree cottage. It sleeps two people in a double bed. It has two adobe walls, bamboos and stones (it's a great natural air con), a porch with a single hammock, a stone sink with a view of Morne Diablotin. It has an outdoor shower and bathtub. The toilets are at a short walk from the cottage. It has a Wi-Fi connection.
